Thanks. I am almost done hacking away at #9 based on the last draft. I cut it back considerably, considering there will be a separate comment on Modeling, which I believe John P. said he would take a crack at. I'll send my re-write to those participating in the call tomorrow, but it won't be a redline. So we'll have to look it over and see if we want to start anew with mine.

Amy, I didn't see the marked up comments from yesterday posted online. If you could send me #9, I may have some time to edit it this afternoon before tomorrow's call.

Thanks, John
